oved his cattle and other animals there in the afternoon and the fire started in the evening. The origin of this fire is just as mysterious as the one on Monday 12. His cattle were burned along with two horses and his treatment was the same.

his implements except a nuder and a cultivator. The pigs, belonging to him, were also destroyed in the fire, as were four calves be-

Cavan A.Y.P.A. Have Oyster Supper

CAVAN, Feb. 27. — (S&A Correspondence) — The C. A. Y. P. A., of John's Church held a very successful oyster supper in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening. Public supper was served from 6.30 till 9.30 p.m. and after which a virtuous party was held.
Mrs. Grace Skison and Mr. Elar-
B. Bruchette was first prize and Mrs. Creighton Carr and Mr. Leven-worth second prize consolation prize this was followed by a dance, music being supplied by the Valley Servants Orchestra of Millbrook.

only disturbance was in the rug on the floor, which was rumpled as the murderer presumably pulled Appleby's body, face downward, back from the open safe in order that he might get at the cash box. Appleby's gold watch and $50 in cash in his pockets were untouched.

Show "Goes On"

Lending a bizarre touch to the case, and recalling the oft-repeated maxim of the theatre—"The show must go on," was the performance by the Chinese Free Masons, which was given, according to schedule yesterday afternoon, while the corpse still lay in the office.

The weird thinking of the native instruments and the sing-song dialect of the performers on the stage rose in a strange melody to the ears of the detectives searching every nook of the office for clues.

At 12 p.m. Sunday a midnight show was scheduled to begin, and, true to the tradition of the theatre it, too, was held.

Among the details of the case followed carefully by the police was the movements of a woman who had taken part in last week's show at the Roxy, and who left for Chicago last night. After investigation the police satisfied themselves regarding her movements, and devoted themselves to the few other slender clues on which they must work if they hope to apprehend Appleby's slayer.

Background of Sensational Action

 Germany has considered the London Treaty an unjustly imposed military restriction.
 The British action, however,
 provided for her release from prison, but not all of the treaty's military restrictions.

In return for this concession, Germany was expected to return to the League of Nations.
